

U-First Responder™ Product Line

Protective Garments: UniTech designs and manufactures much of our protective wear and we offer many customization and marking options. We test all our garment textiles for strength, comfort, and barrier performance.

Respiratory Equipment: We are master distributors for MSA, Scott, and 3M. We conduct inspection and repair as well as ISO-certified cleaning services.

First Aid: Green Guard, UniTech's sister company, is a leader in first aid supplies, trauma kits, and industrial safety items. Our U-First Responder customers benefit from their substantial expertise and product access.

Contamination Control: From barrier materials to decontamination agents and supplies, UniTech is a comprehensive source for all types of hazardous materials containment and control products.

We're Ready to Help

UniTech is well equipped to assist you in the selection, management, and maintenance of your First Responder equipment. We offer the experience, resources, and operating stability needed to support your critical application.

UniTech decontamination operations are ISO-9001 certified, assuring consistent, audited performance to our customers.

We have locations throughout the United States with subsidiary operations in Europe.

Kits and accessories for a wide range of First Responder needs.

Backed by UniTech's PPE expertise and renowned customer support.

First Responder PPE Management: Easier Said than Done?

Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) selection and management seems easy enough. Just procure needed items from a competitive supplier. When items are used, just reorder them. Simple, right?

Not quite. In reality, there are a myriad of product options to sift through - and knowledgeable customer support for the range of products you procure is rarely available from a single source.

UniTech: A Unique Supplier

Enter UniTech. We are a fifty-year worldwide leader in nuclear protective garments and equipment. We design, manufacture, and service cutting-edge, high-barrier PPE for a range of hazardous environments. This means we can give you fast answers on application, use, and maintenance.

UniTech is a subsidiary of UniFirst, a 100-year national powerhouse in industrial garments and products.

The UniTech Approach

Our U-First Responder Program™ simplifies all aspects of your PPE program. From a range of kit options to tamper-proof item packaging to kit inventory lists, our program provides unique convenience for first responder PPE managers.

The U-First Responder™ Program

UniTech knows that you have many supplier choices. We also know that you seek more than just a low price. U-First Responder™ provides you unique advantages that simplify and enhance your PPE management. Notable program features include:

● U-First Responder™ Kit

Pre-assembled kits make the initial purchase simple and offer savings over buying items separately. UniTech takes it a step further by offering single-use and launderable clothing options and practical check lists for kit inspection and re-order tasks.

● U-First PPE Packaging

Most U-First Responder items are sealed with tamper-proof clear plastic. Besides protecting items from environmental damage, our packaging provides evidence of previous use or tampering. Items are clearly marked with a packaging date, item description, and part number.

● Vast Quick-Ship Inventory

A major advantage of the U-First Responder program is our access to PPE, first-aid and safety supplies. U-First Responder customers benefit from our buying power, large quick-ship inventory, and nationwide coverage via eleven regional locations.

● Mobile Safety Store™

Perfected by UniTech, our Mobile Safety Store service brings a comprehensive dispensing facility directly to major emergency response events. We pre-stock and deliver over-the-road trailers to your location, saving your First Responder team the distraction of assembling adequate inventories for extended duration events. You pay only for what is used.

● PPE Process Services

UniTech brings 45 years of garment and respiratory equipment processing services to U-First Responder. Our nationwide licensed facilities offer cleaning, inspection, maintenance, and re-packaging. For costly PPE such as respiratory equipment, UniTech processing is a convenient, economical alternative to disposal or self-maintenance.
